

MAMMAL SAFARI

As winter ends and spring begins, many mammals become more active. Warmer weather means it's time for them to find food and prepare for having babies. Go on a safari in your neighborhood or a nearby wild place to look for mammals. What kinds can you find? What signs tell you about others in the area?

Keep a Record!

Date _____ Time _____

Location _____

Weather _____

Helpful Things to Take Along

Field guide to mammals

Field guide to animal signs or animal tracks

Mammals to look for:

- Squirrels
- Chipmunks
- Rabbits
- Mice
- Deer

Signs to find:

- Tracks
- Scat (droppings)
- Fur
- Chewed plants and bark
- Holes, burrows, nests, and other homes

PHOTODISC

Make notes and sketches of your mammal observations in the box below: